

Deciding to build our first home was a very stressful decision. Many phone calls were made – one being to Nordenstrom Custom Homes. David was friendly and confident from the start. We were able to express our ideas and capabilities to him with ease. It was easy to see that Nordenstroms were consistent with their knowledge of current codes and regulations. David tried his best to accommodate our dreams within our financial means. You can certainly tell they are a company survived into generations with pride in the work that they do. We are very proud of our new home and very grateful that we decided to choose Nordenstrom Custom Homes.
